

COVID-19 RISK REDUCTION MEASURES

We are extremely concerned about reducing the risk of exposure for our patients and out staff. We have recently installed ventilation units in each room to draw air from inside the building to the outside. This reduces risk of exposure to aerosol contaminants. We have also installed on our HVAC system a device known as a Reme Halo. (<https://www.rgf.com/products/air/remehalo/>) This device continuously adds hydrogen peroxide to the air circulating within the building. The airborne hydrogen peroxide can contact and eliminate any viral or bacterial airborne particles. Also, the hydrogen peroxide constantly settles on all surfaces in the building, disinfecting them. We continue to follow strict OSHA and CDC guidelines also, as we always have, with sterilization of instruments and surfaces.

We are scheduling differently with more time between patients, and also asking all patients to wear face coverings while in the office. Patients only, and no family members unless the patient is a minor or needs assistance due to mobility issues, are permitted in the office.

All of us at Island Dental are determined to keep all of our patients and our staff as healthy as possible. Please feel free to reach out to us at any time for further explanation.

Best regards to you and your families,

Dr Lepenven
